

Building a Risk Academy - Internal Training Design Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Risk Management	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

The rapidly evolving global landscape characterized by geopolitical volatility, accelerated digital transformation, and increased regulatory scrutiny of ESG (Environmental, Social, and Governance) factors has made proactive enterprise risk management (ERM) an indispensable core competency. Traditional, siloed risk functions are proving insufficient in mitigating cascading and interconnected risks like sophisticated cyber threats and complex supply chain disruptions. This necessitates a shift towards fostering a ubiquitous risk-aware culture across the entire organization, leveraging a three lines model approach. Our internal Risk Academy is the strategic solution to bridge the critical risk management expertise gap, ensuring consistent application of best-in-class frameworks like ISO 31000 and COSO ERM.

Building a Risk Academy - Internal Training Design Training Course is designed to empower key personnel to become internal risk champions and effective risk educators. It moves beyond theoretical concepts to emphasize the contextualization of risk within business processes, ensuring participants can not only identify and assess threats but also deploy AI-driven risk modeling and data-informed mitigation strategies. By creating a standardized, in-house curriculum, the organization achieves a scalable and sustainable mechanism for continuous skill development in operational resilience, financial prudence, and strategic decision-making, ultimately transforming risk from a compliance burden into a powerful competitive advantage.

Course Duration

5 days

Course Objectives

1. Design a curriculum that seamlessly integrates Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) with corporate strategy and Organizational Resilience planning.
2. Develop and implement training modules to instill a pervasive risk-aware culture and promote the psychology of risk across all employee levels.
3. Equip participants to identify, assess, and mitigate emerging cybersecurity risks, data governance failures, and AI/ML model risks.
4. Ensure training clearly defines roles and responsibilities based on the Three Lines Model, focusing on the First Line of Defense ownership.
5. Apply quantitative and qualitative risk analysis methods, including scenario planning and the use of Key Risk Indicators (KRIs).
6. Design clear, impact-focused reporting mechanisms for Executive Leadership and the Board of Directors, focusing on strategic risk context.
7. Incorporate modules on managing geopolitical volatility, climate-related physical and transition risks, and broader ESG compliance issues.
8. Create training focused on building business continuity plans (BCP), disaster recovery (DR), and supply chain vulnerability analysis.
9. Facilitate the embedding of risk-informed decision-making into critical business processes like new product development and M&A.
10. Certify a cohort of internal risk champions to deliver consistent, high-quality, and locally relevant risk training.
11. Establish metrics to measure the Return on Investment (ROI) and impact of the Risk Academy on risk incident reduction and control effectiveness.
12. Familiarize users with core Governance, Risk, and Compliance (GRC) technology and the principles of connected risk management.
13. Ensure all training aligns with relevant industry-specific regulatory requirements and compliance frameworks.
