

Building Organizational M&E Capacity Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Monitoring and Evaluation	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Building Organizational Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Capacity is a strategic imperative for institutions seeking to strengthen results-based management, evidence-informed decision-making, and accountability for impact. As development, humanitarian, and public-sector organizations face increasing donor scrutiny, complex programs, and adaptive management demands, strong institutional M&E systems are no longer optional they are mission-critical. This course equips organizations with the tools, frameworks, and competencies required to institutionalize M&E beyond individual projects and embed it within governance, leadership, and operational culture.

This training goes beyond technical indicators to focus on organizational systems strengthening, M&E leadership, learning cultures, and sustainable capacity development. Participants will explore practical approaches to designing fit-for-purpose M&E frameworks, building staff competencies, aligning M&E with strategy, and leveraging data for organizational learning and performance improvement. Real-world case studies and applied exercises ensure participants can translate theory into actionable organizational change.
