

Financial Inclusion Through Savings Groups (ROSCAs, ASCAs) Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Microfinance & Financial Inclusion	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Savings groups, including Rotating Savings and Credit Associations (ROSCAs) and Accumulating Savings and Credit Associations (ASCAs), have emerged as powerful mechanisms for advancing financial inclusion in underserved communities. They provide accessible, community-driven financial solutions that promote saving discipline, credit access, income smoothing, and economic empowerment. Financial Inclusion Through Savings Groups (ROSCAs, ASCAs) Training Course equips participants with practical knowledge, tools, and strategies to facilitate and manage savings groups effectively, enabling communities to strengthen financial resilience and promote collective economic development.

The training emphasizes the design, management, and sustainability of ROSCAs and ASCAs, integrating principles of group governance, financial literacy, digital tools, risk mitigation, and monitoring. Participants will engage in case studies, interactive exercises, and data-driven insights to learn how to establish, scale, and monitor savings groups that enhance inclusion, reduce vulnerability, and foster social cohesion while contributing to broader financial ecosystems.
