This program integrates global best practices in gender-responsive mining, diversity and inclusion strategies, women empowerment frameworks, and social impact compliance mechanisms. It strengthens institutional capacity to implement gender-sensitive policies, promote women in STEM and engineering roles, and enforce workplace equity standards aligned with international benchmarks such as the UN Women Empowerment Principles (WEPs) and ILO conventions. Participants will gain actionable skills to transform organizational culture, improve compliance, and drive measurable impact in inclusive resource governance and community development within extractive industries.
