

Persona & Journey Mapping for Public Users Training Course

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Public Sector Innovation	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

In today's rapidly evolving public sector, understanding citizens' needs and behaviors is crucial for designing effective services. Persona and journey mapping have emerged as powerful tools to create citizen-centered strategies that enhance service delivery, improve engagement, and foster trust in government initiatives. Persona & Journey Mapping for Public Users Training Course provides participants with hands-on approaches to identify public user segments, capture their experiences, and translate insights into actionable service improvements. Through interactive exercises, real-world case studies, and collaborative workshops, participants will learn to visualize the entire user journey, recognize pain points, and uncover opportunities for innovation in public services.

The course equips public administrators, service designers, and policy makers with advanced skills in mapping and analyzing user interactions across multiple touchpoints. Participants will develop competencies in creating accurate personas, identifying behavioral patterns, and designing optimized service experiences that align with organizational objectives. By integrating evidence-based methodologies with practical applications, this training ensures participants can apply persona and journey mapping techniques to real-world scenarios, ultimately improving the efficiency, effectiveness, and satisfaction of public services.
