Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Human Resource Management	Duration	5 Days
Base Fee	$1,500 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

Talent Calibration Practices is a strategic, data-driven approach designed to enhance workforce performance, succession planning, leadership readiness, and organizational agility. In today's dynamic business landscape, organizations must leverage performance analytics, competency frameworks, DEI alignment, AI-driven talent insights, and high-potential identification models to ensure fair, objective, and future-focused talent decisions. Talent Calibration Practices Training Course equips HR leaders and business executives with structured methodologies to eliminate bias, strengthen workforce planning, and build high-performance cultures through systematic calibration frameworks.

This intensive program integrates talent analytics, 9-box grid optimization, succession management, performance differentiation, employee engagement strategies, and predictive workforce planning to create measurable business impact. Participants will gain hands-on expertise in conducting calibration sessions, using real-world case studies, embedding governance models, and aligning talent decisions with strategic business objectives. The training promotes transparency, data integrity, leadership accountability, and continuous improvement within the performance management ecosystem.
