

Training Course on Host Government Relations and Local Content Development in the Oil and Gas Sector

Professional Development Training Course Outline

Category	Oil and Gas	Duration	10 Days
Base Fee	$3,000 USD	Delivery Mode	Online / On-site Hybrid

Course Introduction

The global oil and gas (O&G) sector is increasingly influenced by evolving regulations, local stakeholder engagement, and sustainable development mandates. With the growing emphasis on social license to operate, governments are strengthening local content laws to promote domestic economic participation and job creation. This course offers a strategic and in-depth understanding of Host Government Relations (HGR) and Local Content Development (LCD) within the O&G industry, equipping professionals to effectively align corporate strategies with national priorities.

In today’s ESG-driven energy landscape, companies must build strong relationships with host governments while navigating complex political, legal, and regulatory frameworks. Training Course on Host Government Relations & Local Content Development in the Oil & Gas (O&G) Sector blends cutting-edge strategies, policy insights, and real-world case studies to help participants master critical aspects of stakeholder management, compliance, capacity building, and sustainable local supply chain integration—all essential for project success and long-term value creation.
